Summer Newsletter Pause

As the school year comes to a close and many of our members begin a well-deserved summer break, FEA will be pausing our regular weekly newsletter for the summer. We know that many members use this time to rest, recharge, travel, and prepare for the upcoming school year, and we want our communications to align with that natural pause in the academic calendar.

FEA staff and leadership will continue working throughout the summer, including preparations for the NEA Representative Assembly, membership initiatives, advocacy efforts, and planning for the 2026-2027 school year. If there are any urgent or time-sensitive updates, we will still communicate those with members as needed.

Our regular newsletter schedule will return in late July as many schools begin preparing for the new academic year.

In the meantime, keep an eye out for an upcoming email announcing the release of the Spring edition of the FEA Journal!

We wish everyone a restful, joyful, and restorative summer. Thank you for all that you do for our students, schools, and communities.

In solidarity,
Federal Education Association
