Having Issues With RAT or Educational Travel Reimbursement?

If you have applied for Return Agreement Travel (RAT) reimbursement or Educational Travel reimbursement, please make sure you received both your reimbursement and the correct reimbursement amount.

If you:

- Have not received your reimbursement
- Received an incorrect reimbursement amount
- Are experiencing delays
- Have another issue with your travel reimbursement

Please submit a Pay Inquiry through the appropriate DoDEA process first.

If you do not receive an adequate response or your issue remains unresolved, please send the response and relevant information to me at FEAAdmin@nea.org so FEA can review the issue.

Please do not let an unresolved reimbursement issue go unreported.

Make Sure You're Ready to Vote

As the new school year gets underway, FEA encourages members to take a few minutes to make sure their voter registration and absentee ballot information are up to date.

For members living overseas or away from their voting residence, the Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP) provides resources to help U.S. citizens register to vote, request absentee ballots, and review important election deadlines.

Even if you have voted absentee before, it is worth confirming that your voter registration is current and your absentee ballot request has been submitted.

Requirements and deadlines vary by state, so checking now can help ensure you have everything you need when it is time to vote.

With the school year back in full swing, take a few minutes now to get election-ready. Staying prepared can help you avoid last-minute issues as Election Day approaches.

In solidarity,
Federal Education Association
